THE SILOS MODESTO

WELCOME TO THE SILOS

Thank you for being here. Our home is your home.

A LANDMARK. A NEW CHAPTER.

Dating to 1939, according to the historical survey cited by The Modesto Bee, the Silos once belonged to The Grange Company, founded in 1874 and known as Modesto's oldest company. Rising 142 feet above ground, the grain elevator could hold 200,000 bushels: about 12 million pounds if filled with wheat. Weight varies by grain.

Today, we gather over coffee, food, cocktails, and celebrations, creating a place where neighbors become friends and everyone feels they belong.

HERE FOR OUR COMMUNITY

We are here for Modesto, our neighbors at Modesto Junior College, and everyone who walks through our doors. Students, faculty, families, longtime locals, and first-time visitors: you are part of what makes the Silos special.

We are learning and growing every day, strengthening our team and improving the experience we offer. Our purpose is to bring people together and make a positive difference in the community we call home.
