Booking, Food & Bar Terms

Catering & Events | Retail-price preorder and event agreement

1. Booking and payment

This agreement is between Global Capital Fund 5, LLC, operating as Modesto Silos (Silos), and the host identified on page 6. Booking is confirmed when both parties accept this agreement and the 50% deposit shown on page 6 is successfully paid (checks must clear). The deposit is credited once against the final bill. The remaining balance and approved additions are due by the conclusion of the event. A separate secure payment authorization is required for any later card charge; do not write card details on this form.

Accepted payments: Cash, check payable to Modesto Silos, or credit/debit card processed through the Modesto Silos Toast payment system. Cash and checks must be delivered to an authorized Silos representative; a receipt will be provided. Returned checks or failed card transactions remain unpaid; Silos will request replacement payment. Event-day checks remain subject to clearance. See page 9 for payment safeguards.

2. Preorders, portions and changes

The host selects items and quantities at the quoted retail prices. Accepted prices remain fixed for those items; later additions or changes require a revised price accepted in writing. Quantities mean regular menu orders, not trays or whole cakes. The host pays for confirmed quantities prepared, even if attendance is lower or food is uneaten. Guest count guides seating and service; it does not automatically multiply every menu item. Buffet service is not unlimited food. Before confirmation, the parties complete the selection deadline, portions, service style and timing.

Final selections / quantities due (agreed per event): _____

Service style: Buffet / Plated / Other _____ Food/order notes: _____

Changes after that deadline require written acceptance and may affect price or availability. Extra guests require capacity approval; additional food and services are charged only at disclosed, approved prices. No automatic extra-guest penalty applies. Report allergies and dietary needs before confirmation. Silos will discuss feasible accommodations but cannot guarantee an allergen-free kitchen. Material substitutions require host approval; an unavailable item may instead be removed and credited.

3. Alcohol and hosted-bar spending

Select: [ ] Guest-pay [ ] Hosted tab [ ] Prepaid hosted bar

Host cap including tax and 20% gratuity: $_____ Prepayment: $_____

Eligible drinks / exclusions: _____

Person authorized to increase cap: _____ Phone: _____

A $1,000 prepaid bar is available as an example budget, not a required minimum. Hosted drinks are charged as served; wine bottles as opened. The cap includes applicable tax and the 20% mandatory gratuity. Worksheet bar orders count toward the same cap when included; no drink is billed twice. At the cap, service switches to guest-pay unless the named person approves an increase. Guest-pay purchases are billed separately, with the event gratuity disclosed on those checks and not billed again to the host. Any additional tip is optional.

Unused hosted-bar prepayment is credited to the final bill; any excess is refunded to the original payer within 14 days after settlement. A prepaid bar allowance is separate from the booking deposit and is not automatically forfeited on cancellation. No outside alcohol is permitted. Service is limited to guests 21+ with valid identification and may be refused for safety or intoxication. Bar hours and last service time are agreed here: _____.

4. Mandatory charges and taxes

The 20% mandatory gratuity applies to event food and beverages, including additions, but not to the hospitality fee or tax. It is a required charge, not a voluntary tip, and is taxable under California law. Other charges are taxed where applicable. The hospitality fee covers the page 6 scope. Extra rentals, staffing or services require an itemized, accepted quote.

Cancellation & Patio Weather

Catering & Events | Retail-price preorder and event agreement

5. Cancellation and rescheduling

Send written notice to info@modestosilos.com. Receipt time controls, using Modesto local time. At least 7 calendar days before the scheduled start: 25% of the booking deposit retained; 75% refunded. Fewer than 7 days before the start, or a no-show: full booking deposit retained. Exactly 7 days falls in the earlier tier. These are intended cancellation amounts, subject to applicable law; they do not authorize an unlawful penalty. Where required, retention is limited to documented, legally recoverable loss, accounting for avoided costs and replacement bookings, with any excess refunded. No automatic full-event-balance cancellation charge applies.

Silos will provide an itemized cancellation accounting and issue any refund within 14 days after the amount is determined. Rescheduling requires written agreement on the new date, pricing and deposit credit; until accepted, the original booking remains in force. If Silos cannot provide the event, payments for unprovided services are refunded unless the host chooses a written rescheduling arrangement.

6. Timing, weather and space

Access and use are limited to the area and times on page 6; other areas may remain open to the public. Extensions require approval and are not guaranteed. No automatic extension is created by a late arrival. Complete the agreed extension rate before signing; a blank rate does not authorize an undisclosed fee.

Extension rate: $_____ per _____ Weather backup / decision time: _____

Patio weather acknowledgment and deposit credit

Modesto Silos has two open-air patios and one covered patio. The reserved area is identified on page 6. A covered patio is not an enclosed, climate-controlled room. Outdoor conditions may change before or during an event, including heat waves, cold temperatures, cooler evenings, wind, rain and prolonged seasonal weather. Silos cannot guarantee outdoor comfort or weather conditions. Indoor space, heaters, tents or other weather accommodations are included only when expressly stated in the accepted quote.

Weather-related rescheduling: If forecast or actual weather affects the planned gathering, the host should contact Silos as soon as reasonably possible at info@modestosilos.com, including for concerns arising within 7 days or on the event day. When the host and Silos agree in writing to postpone, 100% of the initial booking deposit will remain as a credit toward a mutually acceptable future date or a different event hosted by the same customer at Modesto Silos. No cancellation deduction applies to that approved transfer. A same-day request must be communicated before the scheduled event start; an uncommunicated no-show is not an approved postponement.

The replacement date and event are subject to availability and mutual written agreement. If a date cannot be selected immediately, the parties may confirm in writing that the deposit remains on account pending an agreed event. The credit is applied once toward the replacement event; its menu, services and pricing will be confirmed in a revised quote. There is no automatic credit expiration under this clause. Once services have begun, any change and treatment of services already provided must be agreed separately in writing.

Cancellation instead of credit: The host may cancel under section 5. Notice received at least 7 calendar days before the original scheduled start retains 25% of the deposit and refunds 75%; fewer than 7 days or a no-show follows the later cancellation tier, subject to applicable law. A rescheduling request alone does not confirm a transfer. An approved weather credit does not automatically become a cash refund or restart the original cancellation window; any later cancellation remains subject to section 5 and applicable law.

Unsafe or unavailable service: If unsafe weather, closure or another event beyond either party's reasonable control prevents lawful, safe performance, the parties will discuss an alternative or rescheduling. Without agreement, payments for unprovided services are refunded. This protection and statutory rights are not waived by the weather acknowledgment.

Host initials: _____ Date: _____

Event Policies & Acceptance

Catering & Events | Retail-price preorder and event agreement

7. Guests, vendors, decor and property

Guests must follow staff safety directions, posted rules, capacity limits and applicable law. Children require adult supervision. Staff may refuse alcohol service or remove disruptive guests; serious safety issues may require ending the event. Charges remain tied to services supplied and lawful losses, not an automatic forfeiture of all payments. Private offices, kitchens and other restricted areas are excluded.

Outside food, cakes, vendors, amplified music and decorations require advance written approval. No glitter, confetti, damaging wall attachments or unapproved flames. Any vendor insurance, security, cake-service charge or equipment requirement must be specified in the quote. Standard cleanup is included in the agreed hospitality scope. Host removes personal items and decor by the stated deadline. Safe leftovers may be released with staff approval; the host is responsible for their transport and storage after handoff.

The host is responsible for reasonable, documented repair or extraordinary cleanup costs caused by the host, guests or hired vendors, excluding ordinary wear and conditions caused by Silos. Silos will provide photos or other supporting records and an itemized bill. Each party remains responsible for its own negligence or misconduct; no blanket waiver of injury claims or statutory rights is required. Marketing use of identifiable guests requires separate appropriate permission.

8. Payment safeguards and approval authority

The named host is the customer responsible for the event bill. If booking for an organization, identify its full legal name on page 6; the signer represents that they are authorized to bind it. A representative does not give a personal guarantee merely by signing for the named organization. Only the host or the authorized event contact below may approve additional host-billed purchases, service changes or overtime. Silos will record those approvals; other guests cannot increase the host bill without authorization.

Authorized event contact: _____ Phone: _____

If a payment fails, Silos will give written notice and a reasonable opportunity to replace it before suspending preparations or releasing the date. If unresolved, any termination and retained amounts remain subject to section 5 and applicable law. No automatic returned-check penalty, late fee or card surcharge is added by this agreement. Card payments must use a Silos-issued Toast checkout or terminal; do not email card numbers or pay personal staff accounts. Later card charges require separate secure authorization. Guests retain applicable payment-dispute rights.

The host should report service concerns to the event manager promptly so Silos can address them during the event; doing so is not a condition of retaining legal rights. Personal property remains in the host or guest's care unless Silos expressly accepts custody. This does not exclude responsibility for Silos' own negligence or misconduct.

9. Entire agreement and signatures

Pages 1-9 and any attached, accepted event quote form this agreement. Later changes must be accepted in writing by both parties. An event quote overrides a standard term only if it expressly identifies the change and both parties accept it; otherwise these terms control. Email acceptance and electronic signatures may be used. Unfilled optional fee fields impose no charge. California law applies; the parties will first try in good faith to resolve concerns directly, without limiting small-claims or other legal rights. If one provision is unenforceable, the remaining provisions continue where lawful. Before signing, complete the event scope, selection deadline, mandatory charges and payment amounts. The host accepts the stated selections, charges and terms; the patio initials on page 8 are a separate acknowledgment.
